CPLD receives pulse every minute, which triggers 574 latches

LCD receives text display information

Push buttons send pulses to indicate user selections

Tri-color LED receives one of seven permutations of on/off

Comparator sends digital input from user indicating dial position

Alarm receives analog waveform constructed from digital signals